

List of Registered Trademarks

The Office of Trademark Licensing manages the registration of university trademarks with the United States Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO). Rutgers trademarks include the name of the university, university logos and wordmarks, intercollegiate athletics logos and wordmarks, and all other identifying symbols across the university. For clarity to the items below, “Institutional” refers to items requested and financially supported by Rutgers University; whereas, “Unit” refers to items requested and financially supported by departments.

Additional University Marks

It is not required to register a trademark with the USPTO for it to be legally protected. Doing so gives the owner of the trademark enhanced benefits; however, unregistered marks still have the protection of federal and state laws. Rutgers owns many unregistered trademarks that are associated with the university (e.g., Ernest Mario School of Pharmacy, Old Queens campus). Additionally, registered trademarks managed by the Office for Research and retired logos that still have active registrations were excluded from the above information.
